WOMAN BOUND FOR APALACHICOLA FLORIDA ON FOOT

The Birmingham News says: A young woman, apparently suffering from ill health and very weary, called at the mayor's office recently and asked for transportation to Florida. The mayor became interested, as the woman told him of her condition, and finally furnished her transportation as far as Montgomery. She told the mayor that her name was Florence Wilson, and that she had walked all the way from Virginia as far down as Pell City, in Alabama, and at that point some one furnished her with enough money to take her to Birmingham.

The tale of the trials and tribulations suffered by the woman in the past two months were heart-rending, and the mayor was much affected. A peculiar weakness of Birmingham's mayor is to be attentive and impressed with the words of a woman. She said that two months ago she was left a widow. She was then living in Virginia. A few days after burying her husband she started for her home, which she states is in Florida. She told the mayor that she had walked every bit of the distance as far as Pell City. She asked the mayor for transportation to some point in South Florida. This could not be granted, but she was furnished with a ticket to Montgomery. The woman does not look as if she had been walking for two months, but she says that she is about broken down. She has a mother in Florida, and she is very anxious to reach her. She fared well along the journey, according to her statement, and says the people with whom she was thrown were very kind. She appreciated greatly the kindness of the mayor, and said that she knew he was a good husband. She evidently did not know that the mayor was unmarried.

Masts and Rigging.

Each of the three masts of all but very small vessels consists of a number of sticks, one above another. The "heel" of the topmast comes a little below the "head" of the lower mast and is secured by a "cap," a sort of iron band, and a bar, called a "hd." Above the topmast comes the topgallant mast and above that the royal mast.

The running rigging consists of ropes used in handling the yards and sails, and every rope has a distinguishing name. Halyards are ropes used to hoist yards and sails. Braces are ropes used to swing the yards around by.

To the beginner the names of ropes are apt to be very confusing. Old salts are fond of spinning a yarn about a lad who wanted to go to sea until he heard that the fore topgallant studding sail boom tricing lining thimble block mousing was the name of about the smallest bit of rope on board ship, when he at once concluded that, such being the case, he could never expect to master the name of the largest rope and consequently decided to become a farmer.

Gypsies and Tartars.

Some ethnologists claim that the gypsies are of the same family as the Tartars. They are said to have appeared first in Germany in 1417 under the name of Tartars or Zegins and by a statute of Henry VIII. They were expelled from England in 1530. This not proving efficient to exterminate the race stronger measures were taken, described by Thomas Cromwell in a quaint letter still extant. "And in case ye shall here or knowe of any such Gypsies," "that ye shal compell them to depart to the next porte of the see, and eyther without delaye upon the first winds that shal conveye them, or if they shal in any wise breke that commandment, to see them executed, without sparing upon any commysion, license or placards that they may shewe or sledge for themselves to the contrary."

A Fine Sense of Humor.

The Russian Emperor Ivan IV. once ordered one of his high court officials to procure for him a measure full of flies, and when the poor man failed, through the friskiness of the insects in jumping out of the measure, had his head cut off and indicted a fine of 7,000 rubles on the city of Moscow for its share in the failure. On other occasions he would wander away into the country with some boon companions and a few caged bears, and when he came to a peaceful village would let slip the bears and shriek with laughter as the villagers rushed for safety or fell victims to the hungry animals.

Wouldn't Work Nowadays.

The Egyptians had a very remarkable ordinance to prevent persons from borrowing imprudently. An Egyptian was not permitted to borrow without giving to his creditors in pledge the body of his father. It was deemed both an impiety and an infamy not to redeem so sacred a pledge. A person who died without discharging that duty was deprived of the customary honors paid to the dead.

To Die in the Last Ditch.

The phrase "to die in the last ditch" is stated by an English authorism, in such matters to be an Americanism, originating during the civil war. In fact, it was first used by William, prince of Orange, who during the war with France was asked what he would do in case the troops of Holland were defeated in the field and who replied, "I will die in the last ditch."

Decidedly Friendly.

Ranter—I thought this paper was friendly to me.

Editor—So it is. What's the matter now?

Ranter—I made a speech at the banquet last night, and you didn't print a line of it.

Editor—Well? What further proof did you want of our friendship?

ACTUAL WORK OF GRADING THE ROAD TOWARD ST. JOSEPH IS PROGRESSING.

William R. Hauze, general council of the Apalachicola Northern Railroad Company and the St. Joseph Land and Development Company was among the visitors to Jacksonville yesterday, says the Times-Union.

Mr. Hauze says that actual work is now in progress on the new railroad from Apalachicola to St. Joseph. The grading is progressing, and rails will be placed at an early date.

St. Joseph harbor is said to be one of the finest on the Gulf coast without a doubt, and has a natural depth of twenty-one feet. It is the intention of this new railroad company to build extensive docks for exporting and to build up that strip of beautiful country between Apalachicola and St. Joseph.

Mr. Hauze, who has his temporary headquarters in Tallahassee, left yesterday afternoon for that point. His visit to Jacksonville was in the interest of the railroad.

Waiting For an Eclipse.

Lewis Swift, the astronomer, told how he waited in Denver for the eclipse of 1878. For a hundred years astronomers had expected this eclipse, and three minutes before the computed time for it to begin Mr. Swift seated himself at his telescope and looked into a cloudless sky. "It was a solemn moment," said he. "No words can describe it. Slowly, as if time's ceaseless flow had begun to slacken, two of the three minutes had passed away, and no eclipse and nothing to indicate that anything unusual would happen. I then began to count the tick, tick, of our sidereal clock till all the seconds had passed away, and no eclipse, but before the next tick I saw three black mountain peaks on the moon's limb glide on the sun. The eclipse had begun just three-quarters of a second too late." It is such things as this that make one respect the accuracy of the computations of the astronomers when they tell us about the distances in the heavens, the weight and size of planets and other kindred things.

Relieving the Brain.

The persistent use of the muscular system is well calculated to relieve the brain and nervous system of their tension, says Dr. H. J. Hall in Good Housekeeping. It is also true that manual work pleases and satisfies the mind when its results are good. All this becomes clearer when we realize how vainly we may seek relief from nervous fatigue in physical rest or even in recreations of the ordinary sort. The quiet room or the quiet hillside, so suggestive of rest and peace—these are too often impotent in the presence of carking care. One reason for this failure is that the brain and the body are commonly not tired in what is called nervous exhaustion, but are only irritated, while the sense of fatigue, which is so misleading, is merely the result of that irritation and may be termed a psychic fatigue. Under these circumstances it is easy to understand that it is change, not necessarily physical rest, which is so sorely needed.

ROSE'S

4 FULL OLD RYE OR CORN QUARTS WHISKEY

EXPRESS PREPAID TO ANY ADDRESS IN THE SOUTH

$3.40

Reached by Southern or Adams Lines

ROSE'S GENUINE OLD WHISKIES

Are so well known and so universally bought throughout the South that introductory remarks on our part are more a matter of form than of necessity.

The R. M. Rose Co. was established in 1867 and NO business institution in the South has a brighter record.

The name of Rose is a household word the length and breadth of their native state, and there is NO section of the South but contributes its quota of customers and friends.

THE FOUR QUART SPECIALS, Express Charges Prepaid.

Offered you in this advertisement are made up of the highest class medicinal Whiskey possible to make—OLD, MELLOW, GENUINE.

The inheritance of time establishes our claim for its being old. Mellowness is another feature obtained only by ageing for a long period of time in charred barrels—likewise, the real color of genuine whiskey depends upon sufficient ageing. There are ways of falsifying the color with coloring matter—"quick ageing" with chemicals and other schemes for cheapening the cost, but the "Rose Whiskies" are not aged that way.

The Rose methods of making whiskey are simple, and uncontaminated with quick profit producing practices. OUR WHISKEY is all made by the SLOW OLD FASHIONED modes of distillation and ever drop is as pure as a crystal.

We sell more whiskey to consumer direct than all other dealers and distillers combined, and the present enormous volume of business we are doing is the outcome of our long established policy to give consumer the BEST WE COULD MAKE at the LEAST profit consistent.

The popularity of our goods is based on a reputation for honest whiskey at honest prices.

SEND US A TRIAL ORDER TODAY FOR FOUR FULL QUARTS OF OUR GENUINE "OLD RYE" WHISKEY, $3.40, OR FOR FOUR FULL QUARTS OF OUR GENUINE "OLD CORN" WHISKEY, $3.40, EXPRESS CHARGES PREPAID TO ANY POINT IN THE SOUTH REACHED BY THE SOUTHERN OR ADAMS LINES.

OR, if you wish a combination, say two of Rye and two of Corn, or three of Rye and one of Corn, or three of Corn and one of Rye. Why NOT pay a trifle more and get the GENUINE ROSE WHISKIES.

REFERENCES.—Any bank or banker in Atlanta, both Dunn and Bradstreet Commercial Agencies; the physicians without an exception, and any other reputable citizen. If this isn't sufficient, OUR GUARANTEE for QUALITY without recourse—your money back AT ONCE without argument or question, if you are EVER disappointed in our goods.
